

Community involvement keeps Morton busy

Justine M. Morton is owner and principal consultant for Morton Consulting, which specializes in human resource management consulting, training, employee relations, labor relations and recruitment. She has worked as a human resources professional with the Iowa Foundation for Medical Care, The Des Moines Register, the city of Des Moines and Drake University.

Morton, a fourth-generation Iowan, believes that success in business is tied to community involvement. Throughout her professional career, she has been active in her community by serving on numerous volunteer/human service boards. In 1987, she was elected president of the Junior League of Des Moines, a volunteer/philanthropic organization. She was later appointed to the International Association of Junior Leagues — a nominating committee representing the central United States.

Currently, she serves on the State Board of Health, Behavioral Health Resources and the American Red Cross — Human Resources Committee; and Drake University's National Advisory Council on Diversity and Alumni Scholarship Selection Committee. She and her miniature Schnauzer, Max, live in West Des Moines.
